

ARMED FORCES PATROL

San Diego, Cal., March 17.—Martial law exists in effect along the border for miles each side of Tecate, Cal., following the destruction by fire of the general store containing the United States postoffice and the murder of Postmaster Frank Johnston by three men, declared to be Mexicans. The border is patrolled by American troops from Fort Rosecrans. Across the line, not many hundred feet, Mexican rurales are performing guard duty. Every man within a radius of 10 miles of Tecate is fully armed and rifles and ammunition have been ordered from this city.

Governor Hiram W. Johnson was asked to make formal demand on Governor Francisco Vasquez of Lower California for the delivery of the Mexicans suspected of having killed Johnston.

Major W. C. Davis, commander at Fort Rosecrans, received instructions from Washington to lend all assistance possible to the immigration and customs officials and keep the department informed of conditions. He had already taken initiative to the full scope of his authority.

Anti-Mexican feeling is aroused to fever heat in the vicinity of Tecate.

Victim Born in Ohio.

Piqua, O., March 17.—Frank V. Johnston, who was killed at Tecate, Cal., while defending the United States custom house and postoffice against the attacks of three Mexicans, is a former Ohio boy. He was the son of the late F. E. Johnston, at one time a well-known contractor in Miami county.

WOMAN SHOT PARIS EDITOR

Paris, March 17.—Mme. Caillaux, wife of M. Joseph Caillaux, minister of finance and at one time premier, fired five shots at Gaston Calmette, director of the Figaro, in the office of that paper. Four of the bullets took effect, and M. Calmette was removed to a private hospital at Neuilly, where he died.

The shooting was the result of a letter written by M. Caillaux to a woman, which M. Calmette published last week, in the course of his campaign against M. Caillaux. Mme. Caillaux, who was formerly the wife of Leo Claretie, the well known writer, was locked up in Saint Lazaire prison.

The official account of the shooting given by the commissary of police says Mme. Caillaux explained that she had been deeply hurt by M. Calmette's publication of a fac simile letter from her husband to a woman. She was afraid that more of these letters were in existence and resorted to the above means to prevent their publication.

M. Caillaux tendered his resignation as minister of finance as a result of the shooting.

The bitter political struggle between Caillaux, four times minister of finance, and Calmette held the rapt attention of the Parisians for several months.

Calmette, a trenchant writer and a skillful politician, made many charges of graft against M. Caillaux, but failed to prove them.

The commissary of police gave M. Calmette's wounds as two bullets in the lungs, one in the breast and one in the shoulder.

TO PUT WIRES UNDER GROUND

Philadelphia, Pa., March 17.—The Pennsylvania Railroad company will spend more than $1,000,000 to prevent a repetition of such a blockade of traffic as resulted from the recent blizzard. This will be accomplished by putting underground the company's entire telegraph, telephone, signal and train dispatching wires system between this city and New York. The directors decided upon this step, an innovation in railroad construction here or abroad, at their meeting yesterday.

The board authorized the immediate commencement of the work on the stretch between Trenton and Rahway and appropriated $300,000 for the purpose. The Trenton-Rahway section was selected for a beginning partly because of its central location and partly because that portion of the railway system has to be rebuilt in any event.

The operating department of the company believe that if the trains and snow plows could be kept in constant movement no fall of snow that has ever been experienced in this latitude could block the tracks. The trouble in last week's storm and on similar occasions in the past, operation officials say, was due to the fact that the frequent stops of plows and trains, made for safety's sake after the dispatching and signal apparatus was disabled, allowed time for impassable drifts to accumulate.

In constructing the underground wire system the company will provide facilities for the feed wire for the electrification which is sure to come some time in the future on the New York division.

MOTHER SUICIDES

Cleveland, O., March 17.—Mrs. Angela Nichols, 27, hanged herself in a bedroom at her home. She had been in ill health since the death of her oldest baby, a year ago. The cries of the lone infant attracted the attention of neighbors, who discovered the mother's suicide.

DEATH OF JUDGE

Mt. Vernon, O., March 17.—Judge John Byron Waight, 64, in the practice of law here since 1874 and former common pleas judge, is dead. Judge Waight had been in failing health since August, when an automobile he was driving went over an embankment, killing Mrs. Waight and injuring five other members of the party.

REPORT BENNETT CRITICALLY ILL

London, March 17.—A dispatch from Cairo says James Gordon Bennett is dangerously ill of fever on his yacht Lysistrata, at Suez. He is delirious.

It has been Mr. Bennett's custom for years to spend the midwinter and spring in long cruises on his yacht. He left Paris about Feb. 15, joined his yacht near Nice and arrived at Port Said March 3.

Mr. Bennett was born in New York city in May, 1841. His father, James Gordon Bennett, whose name has always been associated with the great individual editors, had then won success for his young newspaper. When the civil war broke out the young man received a commission in the United States navy.

In 1866 he entered upon his life work, becoming managing editor of the New York Herald, executive head for his father. When the father died in 1872 the son became in fact the master of the newspaper property. Mr. Bennett never married. His fortune is estimated at more than $25,000,000.

CARE MORE FOR A LITTLE COIN THAN CHILDREN

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, March 17.—Dr. A. J. McKelway, Southern Secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, in an address at the National Child Labor Conference here last night deplored the slow progress being made in the movement.

"For ten years," he said, "The National Child Labor Committee has been discussing child labor and we are still far from the standard set by the vision of our generation, while on the side of law enforcement we have just begun to make progress. It is too much the habit of our American thinking to regard the passing of a law as the remedy for every abuse.

"North Carolina has for ten years had a nominal 12-year age limit for working children, but until January 1st, of this year, no attempt has been made to enforce the law. Indeed it is such a safe thing to violate this law that insurance companies, believing there is no extra risk involved, insure corporations employing children against damage suits for accidents to children regardless of the child labor laws.

"Obedience to law is a mark of civilization; the violation of law is a characteristic of the barbarian, and where law is concerned with the protection of childhood against wrong, its violation sinks below barbarian into savagery. Yet it is a shameful fact that our Southern States appropriate more for the care of cotton, cattle, hogs and sheep than they do for children."

Militant Acts Destroy Purpose

In referring to the recent outrages of the militant suffragettes in England, Mrs. Humphrey Ward, strong supporter of the municipal vote for women as she is, says: "The militant movement has entirely destroyed the hopes of the Suffragist party, at least for years to come."

Withal the ardent advocates of the cause of suffrage in the United States, there is comparatively little sympathy with the rampant spirit which has led to such lawless destruction of property as that of the militant suffragettes of England.

Granted that women of America do not know what it means to be submitted to certain indignities for which there is no legal restriction in Great Britain; granted that women are entitled to the passage of certain protective laws and home rights, as is the claim of English women demanding the ballot, that does not warrant the wanton acts of the past week.

With a few slashes of the knife a raging militant destroys not merely a painting valued at half a million; she destroys a work of art such as cannot be replaced. The work of an old master, showing talent God-given and one of the rarest things of earth.

Buildings can be rebuilt, but the ruin of a great painting can never be restored.

The act might have been the result of a crazed moment and after regret might have mitigated the offense; but no, she gloated over the havoc wrought and went to her slight punishment, the limit of the law, in the spirit of the satisfied martyr.

Such an act as this injures the cause of suffrage more than can be regained in hours of reasonable argument and convincing statistics.

During the past week there was hardly a single paper issued but told of some crime, committed by England's militant suffragettes.

Arson, one of the worst of crimes, often causing more disaster than is intended, seems to be regarded by the militants as a perfectly legitimate method of warfare. They set fire to a home, not knowing whether or not human toll will be taken in the holocaust; they apply the match to public edifice, without a thought as to the welfare of any inmates; they start the flames in a club house, unconcerned as to what are the conditions.

Their work is that of maddened women, irresponsible for their acts, but they refuse to be considered irresponsible; they glory in the destruction they cause.

The violent actions of the suffragettes in England, while by no means approved by the suffragists of this country, can hardly fail to have its effect in strengthening prejudices already strong against giving women the right to the ballot.

The very fact that women so far forget the claims of law that they commit such outrages as have been repeatedly perpetrated in England, sustains the masculine view that women are too emotional and inclined to excess where their feelings are aroused to judge calmly at the polls.

It does no good to say there are men just as unreasonable and given over to prejudice and violence, for these are considered as isolated cases and the present system of franchise does not give occasion for masculine violence.

There has been a great change of sentiment in regard to giving women the right of franchise in the United States, and many men, who have not yet reached the conclusion that this is best, are yet conceding that woman has many claims to that right.

Whether the increasing militancy in England will permanently affect the suffragist movement in this country remains to be seen, but it will certainly not help the cause.

Enough Illiterates to Determine National Election at Any Time of Our Existence

Be Representative HORACE M. TOWNER of Iowa

THE census of 1910 showed that there were in the United States five million five hundred and sixteen thousand one hundred and sixty-three persons ten years of age and over who were UNABLE TO READ OR WRITE. This was nearly eight per cent of the population. The ratio of illiteracy varied from seventeen to one thousand in Iowa to two hundred and ninety to one thousand in Louisiana.

THERE ARE TWO MILLION TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-THREE THOUSAND SIX HUNDRED AND THREE ILLITERATE MALES OF TWENTY-ONE YEARS OF AGE AND OVER IN THE UNITED STATES, ENOUGH TO DETERMINE ANY NATIONAL ELECTION AT ANY PERIOD OF OUR HISTORY. BY CO-OPERATIVE EFFORT THE REPROACH OF ILLITERACY AMONG THE ADULTS CAN BE OBLITERATED. BY AN EFFORT OF THIS KIND FRANCE REDUCED HER ADULT ILLITERATES FROM FORTY-FIVE PER ONE HUNDRED TO FIVE PER ONE HUNDRED. IN ONE YEAR OVER ONE MILLION MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN OVER SCHOOL AGE WERE ENROLLED, LEARNING TO READ AND WRITE.

In Rowan county, Ky., through the co-operation of people and the teachers under the leadership of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, county superintendent of schools, the illiteracy among grownup men was reduced in three years from over thirteen per cent to practically nothing.

Poetry For Today

BLUFFING

I try to be calm,
And to shut out of mind
All the thoughts that distract;
And I try to be blind
To the blue in the sky
And the sunshine outside.
And to stick to my task.
And I struggle to hide
Just how eager I am
To cut loose and to shirk
And cover the fact
That I'm hating my work.

I try to be firm
And to plod right along.
I whistle sometimes
A gay snatch of a song;
I try to pretend
That my duty I love,
That I don't care a fig
For the blue sky above;
That the sunbeams that dance
Cannot tease me enough
So that I'll want to loaf.
But it's only a bluff.

I try to insist
That I really don't care
That the ice must be Leaving the river out there.
I try to let on
That I don't get a thrill
When I think of the green
Coming back to the hill;
But it's only a bluff.
Just as weak as can be.
For the wish to go fishing
Is throbbing in me.

DID YOU GET YOUR SHARE OF BANANAS?

Washington, D. C., March 17.—Everybody that eats at all eats bananas—that is almost everybody. From the rare luxury and tropical curiosity of 40 years ago the banana has become almost as common and well known as the apple and, taken the year around, considerably less expensive. From the crowded markets of New York to the cross-roads country store of Arkansas the yellow bunch is as familiar as is homely barrel of potatoes, and the enormous quantity of this nourishing fruit consumed by the people of the United States is astounding.

"If you did not eat 40 bananas last year, you did not have your share" writes Franklin Adams, Editor of the Monthly Bulletin of the Pan American Union. "Over 46,000,000 bunches, or more than 3,500,000,000 bananas, were imported by the United States in 1913. The immensity of these shipments can be more readily grasped by the statement that they would cover an area over 20 feet wide reaching from New York to San Francisco, or, placed end to end, would extend more than thirteen times around the earth at the Equator. The 'slip' in the peels would launch the ships of the world. The wholesale value of the 1913 importation, at point of export, was over $15,393,000, while in all probability the consuming public of the United States expended over $40,000,000 for this delectable fruit."

With the increased cost of living owing to the proportionately decreasing food supply, the banana comes forward as an important factor in the world's economy. While its use as a food is limited in this country almost entirely to its consumption in a raw state, in localities where it grows it is frequently fried or baked and is also used for making flour, delicious confections, etc. Placed in a closed barrel and allowed to ferment, bananas produce an excellent vinegar, while from the ripe fruit a delightful cordial is obtained. Dried ripe bananas are said to be superior to figs, weigh only about one-ninth as much as the bunches and occupy correspondingly less space in shipment. In other words, the banana has many kinds of food values as yet but little known in the country which consumes the most.

Banana culture is really one of the oldest of industries. It seems to have been known almost since the origin of the human race. Long before the dawn of history in the Old World, perhaps before the Old World rose from the waters, man lived on the fruit of the musas. The banana was generally considered a native of southern Asia and to have been carried into America by Europeans until Humboldt threw doubt upon its purely Asiatic origin, quoting authors who asserted that bananas were cultivated in America long before the Conquest. It is claimed that bananas formed one of the staple foods of the Incas of Peru who lived in the warm and temperate regions of the Montana. It seems that almost all tropical countries claim the fruit as indigenous.

FISH AND GAME SOCIETY SUPPER ENJOYABLE EVENT

With ninety members present, and with a marked degree of enthusiasm and good fellowship prevailing, the oyster supper given by the officers of the Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association, at Memorial hall, Monday night, proved an unbounded success in every particular, and great credit was reflected upon those in charge of the pleasurable event.

It was a representative gathering, composed of business and professional men, with a liberal sprinkling of farmers from all parts of the county. All entered into the spirit of the meeting with an enthusiasm that was most pleasing to the men back of the movement.

The oyster supper was exceptionally good, with oysters and all of the "trimmings" in abundance, and after all had enjoyed the supper, cigars were passed and a series of speeches were made at the call of Master of Ceremonies, Judge Carpenter.

Some of those responding to the call for speeches were: David H. Craig, D. L. Thompson, Henry Brownell, Ernest Ellis, T. J. Lindsay, Orme Brown and Dr. Emmons.

UNION TOWNSHIP TEACHERS EMPLOYED

At the regular meeting of the Union Township Board Monday afternoon the following teachers were placed for next year:

1, C. U. Roler; 2, H. H. Hiser; 3, O. O. Bush; 4, J. C. Coll; 5, Blanchard Carr; 6, D. S. Craig; 7, Mabel DeWitt; 8, Lulu Binnegar; 9, Edna Thompson; 10, Mrs. Mattie Blessings; 11, Mary Yahn; 12, Ruth McCoy; 13, Hazel McCord; 14, Louise Weaver.

Nos. 5, 12 and 21 were not placed. J. M. Hartman was re-employed at the February meeting as superintendent.

W. R. C.

There will be a called meeting for memorial services Wednesday at 2 p. m. By order of President.

The speeches were greatly enjoyed, the speakers commending the work of the Fish and Game Society, the objects it has in view and a closer union with nature, and the benefits and pleasures to be enjoyed in responding to the call of the woods, the field and stream.

The meeting unquestionably did much to increase interest in the Fish and Game Association in this county, and had the effect of opening the eyes of many to the objects of the Association, and the benefits to be derived from it.

The Association now has more than 150 members, and it is thought that by the next meeting on the first Monday night in April, the membership will reach 175 or even more.

LADIES OF THE G. A. R.

FORMER SLAVE DIES AT THE AGE OF 91

Death Monday afternoon summoned Wesley Harris, aged 91 years, who for years has made his home in a little hut on the Ed Weaver farm, one mile east of this city.

The aged colored man, a former slave, who for a half century has been a familiar figure on the streets of this city, became ill Saturday night, and after lingering in an unconscious condition until Monday afternoon, passed quietly away at a tenant house on the Weaver farm where he had been taken for attention.

For many years the aged man was a slave, and his stories of life under bondage vividly portrayed the days before the question of slavery was washed out in the blood of tens of thousands of Americans.

Regardless of his great age, the little old colored man had seen very few days of sickness until some two years ago, but for the past year he had been enjoying good health once more, and nearly every day he walked into this city, usually carrying a little basket upon his arm, and getting about the city more readily than most men 20 years younger than himself.

The remains of the man were brought to this city Monday evening, and funeral services will be held at the Second Baptist church at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, after which the remains will be laid to rest in the Washington cemetery.

It was with difficulty that Tillet succeeded in preventing the horse from dashing directly in front of the moving engine. After a dash of more than a square the horse was brought to a standstill with no damage done.

PART OF CITY IN DARKNESS

The past two nights part of the city has been in darkness owing to a coil on the big generator burning out at the power plant, and the same lights will be out part of tonight until the coil is repaired by an expert who has come down from Columbus and is engaged in the work.

The first coil burning out was repaired, and the lights were on for about one hour, when the coil again burned out, throwing about 100 of the 129 street lights, out of commission.

The plant is expected to be in condition for carrying the lights some time early tonight, and the power will be turned on just as soon as the repairs are made.

The "outage" has resulted in considerable inconvenience to citizens in the outlying districts of the city.

All lights would have been on tonight from the time darkness falls had the repair man not missed the first train out of Columbus, and was forced to await the arrival of the next train before coming to this city.

Displaying the New Styles in Walking Shoes

Shoe Styles during this Spring and Summer are smarter than they have ever been, primarily of course because the styles of gowns being narrow at the ankles and draped to show the shoes and ankles, have brought about a demand for shoe styles that add to the beauty of the gown.

Colonial Pumps of the smartest kind, plain patent and in combination of tan and light fawn and grays as well as black and white styles will be seen everywhere this year on smartly gowned women.

Of course, we have arranged to meet all your shoe requirements in the most complete manner—just HOW complete will be fully demonstrated in this, the best display of the best equipped shoe stores,

The Festival of Spring Fashions

THE Fashion Event of the City, Correctly Portraying the Season's New Fashions in all Lines of Women's Apparel

Some of the most important fashion features of Spring and Summer which should be carefully remembered. These and many others will be clearly understood by all observant visitors to "THE FESTIVAL OF SPRING FASHIONS" in every fashion department of this store.

New Spring Silhouette: This style was introduced in Paris last season and recently in New York. It is the keynote of Spring and Summer. The new figure line is produced by paniers, clever draperies at the hips and tunics, with hints of bustle effects.

Suit Coats Short: Reaching in most part to the waist and in many cases a little below.

Separate Coats: In lengths from half to three-quarters—all coats being loose fitting and many having a flare more or less pronounced.

Suits Dressy Instead of Plain Tailored

The demi-tailored suit unquestionably predominates the Spring styles—boleros and simulated boleros, flounces and tiers and tunic drapes on skirts; kimono and raglan sleeves on coats; novel collars—a delightful variety that makes that much desired "individuality" easy of attainment.

"The Festival of Spring Fashions"

The most style-instructive and interesting exposition for many seasons—will start tomorrow and continue the following days.

Leading Fabric Fashions for Spring

Dress Fabrics—silk, wool, cotton, linen—both foreign and domestic surely must be at the zenith of their beauty. It seems almost inconceivable that the artists of Paris—in color, in design, in manufacture—can possibly attain greater heights than they have done this season.

Tomorrow we hold an exposition of the newest fabrics of character and fashion to illustrate the unusual beauty and individual distinction and style that result from gowns designed from any of these materials.

Prominently in this exposition—because specially favored by fashion—will be Worsted, Crepe, Ratines in fancy styles and Pastel Plaids.

The new Chiffon Taffetas, Crepe de Chine and countless designs in Tub Silks, Tussahs, Poplins, Radiums, Crepes as well as the favorite Satins in black and colors will be well represented.

WILL BE WIELDED INTO SINGLE BILL

Washington, March 17.—It is probable that the four measures which constitute the administration's program for legislation supplementary to the Sherman law will be welded into a single bill before they are reported to the house. It was learned that the president and members of the judiciary committee of the house favor this action and that the attorney general regards it as the logical thing to do. The four bills will not be attached to one another until the work of rewriting is finished.

the president a draft of the bill prohibiting holding companies. The conference was devoted to a discussion of the provisions and phraseology of the fourth measure and of changes which had been made in the three others, following out previous suggestions of the president. The president's chief interest centered in the interlocking directorate bill. He approved of a new provision which had been written into this drawing a distinction between incorporated subsidiaries of corporations in other states where the relation with the parent corporation was natural and not tending toward monopoly and naturally competitive corporations held under joint control by interlocking directors.

The changes in the monopoly definition bill necessitated by the administration's decision not to run the risk of upsetting the definitions already laid down by the supreme court decisions were submitted to the president. This measure has been altered so as to retain all provisions designed to fix personal guilt of monopolies, but no definition of monopoly itself was retained.

TRIPLE WHITE HOUSE WEDDING

Washington, March 17.—Miss Margaret Wilson's reported engagement to Boyd Fisher of Princeton has been a theme of conversation in official circles for some weeks. It is said to date back before the inauguration, but as the possible date of the wedding is so far in the future, no definite announcement is expected for some time yet.

On the other hand, society would feel no surprise if the engagement of Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, cousin of the president, to Dr. Grayson, military aid and physician to the president, should be announced at any moment, despite official disclaimers. Miss Bones is a pretty brunette, very womanly in manners and appearance. She has been the confidential secretary to Mrs. Wilson since the nomination of the president at Baltimore. She makes her home with them and is like a daughter to them.

Mayor Cured; Skin Cleared By D. D. D.

Mayor Chapman of Ellis, Kansas, courteously says he will answer any letters written him relative to his truly marvelous cure of skin trouble with the D. D. D. Prescription.

Mayor Chapman writes: "I think how I suffered last winter, how I could do no work. I was covered with terrible blotches, sometimes weeping water, sometimes worse, blotches sometimes 10 inches in diameter. PEARLY ITCHING. It was only accidentally that I learned of the famous specific D. D. D. I wrote this in all gratitude for what D. D. D. has done for me."

Results from the use of D. D. D. are immediate. The first, soft, cool touch and the itch is gone! Pimples, rashes, dandruff, disappear over night. Hard crusts and scales, raw scorching sores, salt rheum, tetter, no form of skin disease resists. All druggists have this famous specific on hand.

If you will come to us we will sell you the first bottle on the guarantee that it will reach your case or your money refunded. You alone to judge. Ask also about D. D. D. Skin Soap, best for tender skin.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

SEES GOVERNOR AND ISSUES DEFI

Denver, Colo., March 17.—Mother Jones, 82-year-old leader of the striking coal miners, who was released from the Trinidad hospital, where she had been a military prisoner since Jan. 12, and brought to Denver, declares she will go back to Trinidad before the end of this week. The manner in which she left the camp was attended with great secrecy.

"I fully expect to be arrested and be returned to prison when I reach the strike zone," but no governor nor president can make me abandon my constitutional rights as a citizen to go where I please. So long as I live I shall refuse to submit to military despotism." Mother Jones made this statement after an interview with Governor Ammons.

There is a radical difference between the statements of Mother Jones and the state authorities as to the manner in which she left the hospital. The strike leader declares she simply was deported; that she was brought to Denver under military escort and at state expense without having ever given her consent to leaving the strike zone.

Governor Ammons and Adjutant General John Chase said that Mother Jones had expressed a willingness to come to Denver, leaving the strike zone, if Governor Ammons would grant her an interview. According to the version of the officials, she came to Denver of her own accord when it was intimated the interview would be granted.

Horace R. Hawkins, attorney for the strikers, entered the controversy with the statement that he told the governor Mother Jones had not asked for an interview, but that she would call on the governor if invited to do so. Hawkins declared that the governor then invited the strike leader to call upon him.

The conference between Mother Jones and Governor Ammons was attended by John R. Lawson and John McLennon, strike leaders; by Hawkins and by Clyde Fairchild, the governor's private secretary.

Mother Jones told the governor, whom she held responsible for her imprisonment and many other events in the history of the strike, which she declares discreditable to the state, that she had been deported against her will. She said she would return to Trinidad whenever she pleased. The governor replied he hoped she would not violate the law or do anything to cause disorder in the strike zone. There was a lengthy argument over constitutional rights and the authority of the militia to make arrests.

DECISIVE FIGHT NOT IMMINENT

Washington, March 17.—The skepticism of army officers and other officials regarding Villa's intentions in regard to Torreón continues unabated despite reports from Chihuahua that the general is about to move against the southern city. Not until a battle has actually begun will officials here be inclined to believe that Villa has decided to risk his present comfortable position and holdings in Chihuahua on a battle at Torreón. In the three months since he took Ojinaga Villa has done nothing, while the federals have greatly strengthened their position at Torreón. To get to Torreón, it is pointed out, Villa must cross a large desert barren of supplies on which his army can subsist. Furthermore, military men here point out, Villa could not hold Torreón if he took it, as was demonstrated last summer when he lost it to the federals.

Admiral Howard reported from Guaymas that another engagement between federal and rebel gunboats at Topolobampo has occurred, without decisive results. Admiral Fletcher reported that quiet still prevails at Tampico, though the federals have strengthened their position with reinforcements of troops and with three gunboats in the river. Admiral Mayo on the gunboat Dolphin is in charge of the American squadron in Tampico.

Appeals received at the state department from relatives of Frederick Johnston, postmaster at Tecate, Cal., who was killed by Mexicans, resulted in Secretary Bryan asking the aid of the war department in investigating the occurrence.

BAKER WINS IN LEGAL BATTLE

George W. Baker of this city received word from his attorneys, Tuesday morning, that Judge Hagan had decided in his favor the suit brought by the Clark County Commissioners against Mr. Baker for alleged damages to the highways by the Baker motor bus.

The case was carried from the Justice of the Peace court at South Charleston, and Judge Hagan decided nearly every point involved, in favor of the defendant, holding among other things that the regulation of the Clark County Commissioners was not valid.

The second bus will be placed in commission about April 1st, according to a statement made by Mr. Baker Tuesday morning, and will touch Bookwalter, Sedalia and possibly Danville, connecting them with South Charleston.

PROSECUTION IS BEING BLAMED

New York, March 17.—Lawyers, some depositors and unidentified individuals are energetically going among depositors of the private bank of Siegel & Company and telling them that if it were not for the prosecution begun by the district attorney's office they would receive in time 100 cents on the dollar. Since the men have been indicted the $450,000 raised by their relatives and friends to aid the depositors will now be used as a defense fund, they say. A committee of the depositors of the bank is to intercede with the district attorney to go as easy on the men as his duty will allow in order that they may make substantial settlement.

JOBS ON FARMS

New York, March 17. — A special car attached to the regular Pacific express carried 75 men who have been without a job in the city for most of the winter to farmers waiting in Fond du Lac, N. Y., to put them to work on dairy and truck farms. C. W. Larson, deputy state commissioner of agriculture, went along to see the experiment through. So great has been the demand for rural labor since the state's intention was first announced that two more carloads of willing workers will be sent to Rome and Utica farms Thursday. The rest of the Mohawk valley will be supplied later on if the men keep coming.

COLUMBIA EYES ARE GETTING BIG

Washington, March 17.—Discussion of proposals for the settlement of the long-standing grievance of Colombia against the United States over Panama have been resumed by the two governments. An interchange of messages is now in progress with a view to reaching some set of propositions upon which the two governments can agree. It is understood that the case will turn in the last analysis upon the question of money. Colombians are reported to have had their minds on sums ranging from $25,000,000 to even as high as $50,000,000. Both figures, however, are much too high, according to the understanding here. It is believed that the United States will not even consider a higher sum than $20,000,000.

In Social Circles

The beautiful Howat home, ideal for entertaining in its spaciousness and attractive surroundings, was "wearing the green" in honor of St. Patrick's day Tuesday afternoon when Miss Howat and Miss Johnson, two of the Junior Chionians, gave a Kensington in honor of Mrs. W. J. Galvin, a Junior Chionian bride of the past month.

It was a charming affair, to which dainty appointments, artistic adornment of white and green and the cordiality of the entertainers and their assistants lent every aid.

Many effective toffets were in evidence among the fifty guests, chiefly confined to the younger matrons and girls.

Mrs. Galvin was charming in an exquisite gown of pale blue silk crepe, with trimmings of Venetian lace and silver net. Plouces of the lace on the gathered skirt were caught up to the waistline with butterfly effect and a Frenchy touch of color was added in a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and sweet peas.

Miss Howat received in a dainty white chiffon blouse, with accordion plaited skirt. This is her first season out of college, and a girl unusually bright and vivacious, she is welcomed by the younger set as a decided acquisition to its circle.

Miss Johnson was looking extremely pretty in amethyst silk, accordion plaited with garniture of silver lace.

Assisting in the hospitalities were Mrs. Howat, Mesdames Val McCoy, Howard Allen, Misses Ivah Haines, Dorothy Fullerton and Hazel Gillespie.

A delicious collation was served late in the afternoon.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. D. Withgott, Chifficotte, Mrs. David Clark, Indianapolis, Miss Freda Black, of Sandusky, Miss Urcei Stitt, of Bloomingburg, the guests of Mrs. H. L. Stitt.

The Browning club entertains the State Federation President, Miss Anna B. Johnson, of Springfield tonight with the club women of the city and the President and Secretary of the Progress club of Jeffersonville, of the Women's club of Bloomingburg, and the Ladies' club of Mt. Sterling.

In addition to the reception features, Miss Johnson will talk to the club women and there will be music.

Miss Johnson and Mrs. Josephine Kerr, President of the Browning club will be Mrs. F. G. Carpenter's guests at the Cherry hotel for dinner this evening.

The handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mark, of Glendon, was the scene of a delightfully informal gathering Monday night, in honor of Mr. Mark's birthday and that of his brother, Mr. Chas. Marks. By strange coincidence the two brothers have the same natal day and they usually celebrate it together.

Close neighbors and friends joined with the families in an evening of much social pleasure and congratulations.

Mrs. Mark and daughter, Miss Katharine, served a delicious oyster supper, with salad and other accessories.

SALE OF FARM CAUSE OF SUIT

Charging violation of a written agreement to sell certain lands in Perry township, Martin Kaufman, through Attorney John Logan, Tuesday afternoon entered suit against Charles Burnett, in Common Pleas court, for suitable relief.

The plaintiff alleges that on February 20, 1914, a contract was entered into in writing, by which the defendant agreed to sell 88 1/2 acres of land in Perry township, for the sum of $8,850, the deed to be executed and delivered on or about March 1, 1914, and the plaintiff paid $1,850 on the day the contract was made, and was to pay other amounts at stated intervals until the farm was paid for.

The plaintiff charges that the defendant has failed to execute and deliver to him the deed agreed upon, and has further requested him to stay off the farm and not sow grass seed, or take up other work.

Plaintiff asks the court to compel the defendant to execute and deliver the deed, and to restrain him from interfering with the work he desires to do upon the farm.

CIRCUMSTANCES SADDEN DEATH

Mrs. Bowman Hostetler has received the sad news of the death of her 11-year-old nephew, Clyde Newmiller, at Beach City, Ohio, last Wednesday. The little fellow was visiting his grandparents at Beach City and was taken ill with diphtheria at their home. He only lived a few hours; the distracted parents not allowed to see their little son, because of their other children.

The case is one to arouse deep sympathy.

BLAZE IN ROOF CALLS DEPARTMENT

A small blaze in the roof of the Kier residence on Western avenue resulted in the fire department being called out about 8:30 Monday night, and the blaze was soon out with small damage resulting. Sparks from a flue caused the fire. A neighbor discovered the flames and his prompt action probably saved a much more disastrous blaze.

The big fire engine truck stuck in the muddy street near the fire, but succeeded in pulling out in a short time.
